Win A Nakation

Help support efforts to protect your rights to enjoy nude recreation by entering AANR's latest Government Affairs Challenge, the Sunny Rest Resort and Camp Ground Premier Challenge.

One lucky person will win a seven-night stay for two at Sunny Rest Resort and Campground in Palmerton, Pennsylvania. The vacation is valued at more than $1,000. Transportation is not included. Each five dollar donation gives you one chance to win. We all win when you donate to the AANR Government Affairs program.

Entries must be received by April 16, 2010. The drawing will be held on scooters and wheelchairs and other assist devices?"

A: You can be assured that handicapped people are treated with the utmost respect.

Nudists don't judge other people's bodies because they are nude so it only follows that handicapped people are not judged for a physical disability.

You will find that almost all nudists are some of the friendliest people in the world. In fact, most will not even care you have a physical disability unless you need help.

Not all but most nudist clubs in the United States and Canada, even some of the rustic ones, are equipped for handicapped folks.

Call in advance and ask them just to be sure.

Whether the club is handicapped accessible in all areas or not, you will feel like one of the bunch in no time at all!

Naked Comes The Bather

By Leslie Newell Peacock - The Arkansas Times

I'll bet you never think about any place that disallows any kind nudity by Law, do you? You probably take for granted your right to be nude will always be there. But what if you lived in Arkansas?

Where can you skinny dip when the blistering Arkansas summer rolls around?

Anywhere you want. Where can you legally skinny dip? Nowhere! Arkansas is the only state in the union that prohibits nudity and nudist clubs. Arkansas's got one of the most restrictive laws on nudity in the nation, various nudist websites who've done the comparisons claim.

Arkansas law (Sec. 5-68-204) prohibits persons from exposing their "private parts" to anyone except a spouse or doctor. Not only can you not go about in the nude, you can't even "advocate, demonstrate, or promote" nudity. Which would make it illegal to try and change the law. But as we all know, the law is an ass, in this case one that's covered up. It's blithely ignored anywhere there is water, of course, unless perhaps in those snaky sloughs that flow slowly through the flatlands.

The private part of private property is cover enough (though the Arkansas law, read literally, doesn't even allow that). But for those who don't have their own lake or river to cool their skin in, public property will have to do. And it does.

The only nakedness DeGray's park personnel see commonly is at Caddo Bend Recreation Area, where sometimes they'll see "a young lady with their top undone," lying on their stomachs, reading a book in the sun. That's OK, he said, until they rise up and someone is affronted.

Greers Ferry has a reputation for nude frolicking — it won a 2003 "Best of Arkansas" prize from this newspaper for best place to skinny dip, and the Greers Ferry Lake/Little Red River Tourist Association ran an advertisement in the Times expressing its gratitude.

Benny Rorie, the natural resource specialist (who better to ask?) for the Corps of Engineers lake, acknowledged that bare skin is dipped into the 31,500-acre lake. When rangers on boat patrol after quiet hours, which start at 10 p.m., shine a light on people bobbing up and down, their clothes on the bank, they "kindly ask them to depart," Rorie said. A couple of years ago, a ranger in a boat came across a man shooting photographs of his nude wife posing against a bluff. They were asked, kindly, to cut it

BACK IN TIME AT WHISPERING PINES

Notes From February, 1977

The month started out with temperatures in the fifty and sixty degree range. It felt great!

We finished driving down the new well for the club house. We spent three or four days working inside the tiny camping trailer that we're living in. It was a lot more livable by the time we were finished.

While the lake was empty of water we built a wooden dock on the shallow side and a foot bridge going to the proposed recreation area.

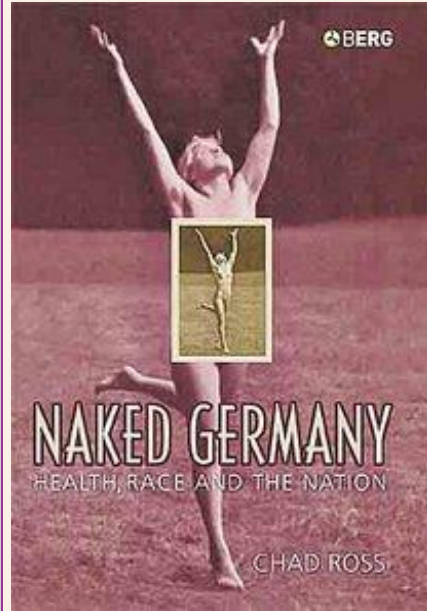

On Valentine's Day we had twelve truck loads of clean sand dumped onto the lake bottom.

As soon as that was done we packed our camping gear onto our motorcycle and drove all night to Cypress Cove, Florida. Let's just say that we needed a break from out.

Being discovered by a ranger can be embarrassing, of course.....

The Origin of Nudism

We all know that Germany is the origin of social nudism and that social nudism came to the United States from Germany in the early twentieth century. This one, simple reference to Germany is all we ever hear about the origin of socialized nudism. But there is a lot more that is overlooked for whatever reason.....and it is quite revealing.

What is the connection between nudism and Nazism? From its origins in nineteenth-century Germany, nudism was conceived and practiced as a means by which the German race could reform itself into a racially purer people.

The nudist formula for regeneration was first to create healthy Germans by curing and preventing disease and moral hypocrisy through heavy doses of nudity, sunlight and air. The now healthy and beautiful Germans could then begin to replenish their national stock, ultimately breeding a racially pure and natural Volk. Nudist ideology was a potent combination of Darwinism, "folk" nationalism, and nature therapy--all deeply rooted in racial theory and designed to transform Germany into a nudist, racial utopia.

In considering this often overlooked aspect of German culture, the author sheds new light on the popularity of Nazi theories of racial hygiene and the history of the body.

the work. We spent five warm days there and knew on the first day that we had a long way to go at Apollo.

As soon as we got home we started spreading the sand. We shoveled it all by hand and had the blisters to prove it. It took us seven days to finish.
